FORTY NINER COACHES

HOWARD W. (RED) HICKEY

Head Coach

Baseball, not football, was Red Hickey's favorite sport when he enrolled at the University of Arkansas in the fall of 1937. But the school was not participating in baseball at that time and Red became an All-Southwest Conference end in football and a guard on the Razorback basketball squad that gained the semifinals of the NCAA tournament in 1941.

Red, however, organized his own baseball team and barnstormed throughout the state during the summers. He had several major league offers but football now was in his blood. After playing for the West in the annual Shrine classic at San Francisco in December, 1940, he was drafted by the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The Steelers traded him to the Cleveland Rams after one preseason game and he put in two full seasons of NFL play before being commissioned in the Navy. After serving as a gunnery officer aboard merchant vessels in the Pacific, he returned to the Rams in time to help them win the NFL championship in 1945.

Red moved to Los Angeles with the Rams in 1946 and performed at end, both offensively and defensively, before becoming an assistant coach under Clark Shaughnessy in 1949. Characteristically, his last campaign as player was one of his best. He caught 30 passes and was a terror on defense.

After the 1954 season, Red resigned from the Rams and joined the Forty Niners as an assistant to the late Norman Strader. In 1956-57-58 he was chief aide to Frankie Albert. When Albert resigned last December, Red was named to the top post.

His coaching philosophy is simple:

"From professional players, I expect 100 percent performance 100 percent of the time."

Red and his wife, Celia, reside in San Mateo with their three sons—Michael, 12; Patrick, 9; and Jeffrey, 2.

MARK DUNCAN

Assistant Coach

A versatile football tactician, Mark Duncan is coaching the Forty Niner defensive line this season after four campaigns as defensive backfield mentor. A native of Denver, Mark starred in football, basketball and baseball at Denver University. After Army service, he became assistant football and basketball coach and head baseball coach at Colorado State.

One of his top pupils was Jack Christiansen, later an all-time pro with the Detroit Lions and now Forty Niner defensive backfield coach.

Mark dropped by the Forty Niner office in the spring of 1955 to say hello. He walked out with a coaching contract.

Mark lives in Hillsdale, California, with his wife, Alice, and three children—Gail, 17; Scott, 12; and Debra, 3.

BILL JOHNSON

Assistant Coach

Bill Johnson was rated one of the game's greatest offensive centers during his nine playing seasons with the Forty Niners. After high school in his native city of Tyler, Texas, Bill enlisted in the Navy and served nearly three years in the Pacific.

In 1947, he was captain of the Tyler Junior College team that won the national jaycee championship and Little Rose Bowl crown in 1947.

He was one of 19 rookies who gave the Forty Niners a 12-2 record in 1949—their best of all time.

Bill, his wife, Dot, and their three children—Bill, Jr., 10; Sherilyn, 9; Tommy, 2—live in Palo Alto, California.

BOB SHAW

Assistant Coach

Bob Shaw was an All-America end for Ohio State in 1942, then saw combat service in the Army. Bob was a teammate of Red Hickey's on the Los Angeles Rams in 1946-47-49. A fractured neck kept him out of action in 1948. As a Chicago Cardinal in 1950, Bob established the NFL's all-time record of five touchdown passes received in a game with the Baltimore Colts.

After playing and coaching in Canada, Bob joined Baltimore as an assistant coach in 1957. He is married and has two children.

JACK CHRISTIANSEN

Assistant Coach

San Francisco fans are glad that Jack Christiansen is "on our side now." As a defensive back for Detroit, Jack was the leader of the great defensive unit known as "Chris' Crew."

A graduate of Colorado State, Jack joined the Lions in 1951 and was an All-Pro choice six of his eight seasons in the NFL. He led the league in interceptions in 1953 and tied for first in 1957.

Jack is married and has three children.

LYNN (PAPPY) WALDORF

Director of Personnel

After a brilliant college coaching career at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma State, Kansas State, Northwestern and California, Pappy joined the Forty Niners as director of personnel and chief talent scout in 1957. He is on the road nine months of the year in his quest for players who'll help put the Forty Niners on top.

Already a legend in football—for his limericks as well as his coaching—Pappy had his greatest success at California where he produced Pacific Coast Conference champions and Rose Bowl squads in 1948-49-50. His 10-year record with the Bears was 66 wins, 32 losses and four ties.

Pappy was a tackle at Syracuse University in the early 1920's. After graduation, he chose coaching instead of following his father into the Methodist ministry.

He and his wife, Louise, live in Berkeley. They have two daughters and five grandchildren.
